2018/2019 ORIENTATION AND MATRICULATION EXERCISE FOR FRESH STUDENTS

This is to inform all fresh students that the 2018/2019 Orientation Exercise has been scheduled to hold between Wednesday 24th and Thursday, 25th April, 2019 while the Matriculation Ceremony has been fixed for Friday, 26th April, 2019.

During the orientation week, lectures on issues relevant to the students' social and academic life in the University will be delivered by selected staff of the University, while the Vice Chancellor will deliver an address during the opening ceremony on the first day.

The comprehensive programme of events is as attached to this memo.

This exercise is very important and therefore mandatory for all fresh students. Any student who fails to participate in either the orientation or matriculation exercise will be deemed to have forfeited his/her admission. Attendance will be taken at the venue of the orientation.

Nevertheless, only students that have paid their school fees will be allowed to participate in the exercise. All fresh students are therefore encouraged to pay their full school fees and complete their registration immediately to enable them to participate in these important events in their career in the University.
